

 Sinolytics is a Berlin-based specialized consultancy entirely focused on China. It provides in-depth research, expert analysis and strategic advice to international companies and investors to enable well-informed China strategy development and decision-making. Sinolytics puts a special focus on the opportunities and challenges arising from China's rapid technological and digital transformation.

Internship Program

Sinolytics (www.sinolytics.de) is launching its selective Internship Program. Starting immediately, we will accept applications on a rolling basis for remunerated, full-time internships with a minimum duration of three months. The internship program is open to current students or recent graduates.

Sinolytics is a young and fast-moving start-up in the center of Berlin. Interns will have the opportunity to contribute to challenging analysis and consulting projects, to work with a team of experienced and dedicated China experts and to gain first-hand experience in China-focused strategy development and business advice.

Requirements:

- Studies in economics, business administration, political science, China studies or other relevant field; applicants with background in computer science or engineering are welcome to apply
- Strong analytical abilities on China-related topics
- Experience in living/studying in China
- Chinese language skills (speaking and reading)
- Curiosity, openness to challenge and rethink conventional assumptions, and dedication to understanding today's rapidly changing China
- Professional English skills

Our working language is English. Non-EU citizens, including Chinese native speakers, are welcome to apply. Accepted candidates will be responsible for arranging their own visa if one is required. However, Sinolytics will support this process with letters of invitation, internship contracts or other necessary documentation.

If you have further questions about Sinolytics please contact us at info@sinolytics.de. If you would like to apply for an Internship, please send your letter of motivation and CV to applications@sinolytics.de. Please indicated your dates of availability.
